Dollar doubts prompt Dow decline

Wall Street

EQUITIES tumbled yesterday amid nerves about the reported bankruptcy of a Japanese real estate company and worries about today's US trade figures, which caused substantial sell-ing of the dollar, writes Janet Bush in New York.

After falling more than 30 points within the first two honrs of trading, the Dow Jones Industrial Average stabilised in quiet afternoon dealings and closed 30.23 points lower at 2,126.24. Volume was only moderate, however, with 154m shares changing hands.

Sbares started falling as soon as the market opened in response to a sharp drop in the dollar which began in the Far East and continued in Euro-pean and US trading. The dol-lar fell during the morning in New York to below Y129, compared with an opening level of Y131.12 in Tokyo. By late afternoon in New York, the US currency was quoted at Y129.05 and DM1.8345. There appeared to be no single reason for the dollar's break below a major chart support level of Y130, altbough one factor appeared to be a suspicion that the US may not be strongly committed to supporting the dollar.

Helping fuel these fears was news of a letter sent to Mr Nicholas Brady, the new US Treasury Secretary, by Senator

THE HUGE potential losses of Klöckner and Co, the unlisted trading and engineering group, are likely to prove a short-term depressant on the West Ger-man stock market, analysts in

NERVOUSNESS ahout corporate developments and the US trade deficit figures due today left most leading bourses mixed to lower yesterday, writes Our Markets Staff. FRANKFURT was shaken by the news that Klöckner and 370 Co, the trading and holding company, is facing possible losses of DM600m to DM700m in forward oil contracts.

The market was already in slightly nervous mood over today's US trade figures, while the downtrend in the dollar and overnight losses on Wall Street had not helped. So the suspension of Klöckner dividend rights certificates on the "regulated", or second-line, market sent shares downward. The FAZ index at midsession was off 5 at 520.93, while the DAX real time index of 30 blue

Another declining stock was Konica, the country's second largest photographic film producer, which fell Y40, or 4.2 per cent, to Y910 amid reports that its leading shareholder, Nihon Tochi, was in serious financial difficulties.

The strength of the Japanese currency helped sectors that usually benefit from a higher yen, notably utilities. Osaka Gas, which was the most heavily traded issue yesterday at 45m shares, advanced Y16 to Y780. Tokyo Gas added Y10 to Y1,390 and Tokyo Electric Power increased Y110 to
